SIR NESS WADIA

Sir Ness Wadia (1873-1952), eminent industrialist and philanthropist of his times and his brother Cusrow became benefactors of the Modern Education Society at the behest of Prin. V. K. Joag (1888-1963), educator, reformist and founder life-member of the Society. The Nowrosjee Wadia College of Arts and Science in memory of father of Sir Ness and Sir Cusrow and the Cusrow Wadia Institute of Technology in the honour of Sir Cusrow came to be established respectively in 1932 and 1938. The Ness Wadia College of Commerce was established in 1969 and the Neville Wadia Institute of Management Studies & Research in honour of the illustrious son of Sir Ness in 1991. Over the years the Wadia campus has earned a distinct pride of place the world over as a centre of higher learning in Pune, particularly in the eastern parts of the city.

NESS WADIA COLLEGE OF COMMERCE, PUNE

Establishment of the College

The background of the Ness Wadia College of Commerce can be traced back to June 1959 when the first Predegree Commerce class was started under the auspices of the Modern Education Society. The class then used to be held in the adjacent building of the Nowrosjee Wadia College of Arts and Science. In the years that followed the endeavour met with an increasingly enthusiastic response from the student community and soon a need to establish a full-fledged commerce college was keenly felt. In 1969, the Commerce wing thus came to be established as an independent college of commerce named after Sir Ness Wadia, (1873-1952), the renowned industrialist and philanthropist of his times. The Modern Education Society is deeply indebted to Sir Ness as well as his brother Sir Cusrow for their unstinting support to its endeavour. The college moved into its present premises with a building of its own in 1971. The College was inaugurated on 15th July 1969 by Dr.H.V. Pataskar, the then Vice-chancellor of the University of Pune. It moved into its present premises with a building of its own in 1971. It came to be headed by the late Dr. B. S. Bhanage, one of the leading scholars of his days who later became the Vice-chancellor of the Shivaji University. He was followed in 1972 by Professor V. K. Nulkar who retired in 1991. Professor Dr. H. M. Shaikh took the charge of the college from Principal Nulkar and remained Principal of the college till February 2000 when he retired. Principal Dr. V. S. Devdhar took over the charge in Feb 2000 on Principal Shaikh's retirement. After her retirement in June 2009 Dr. H. V. Devasthali worked as In-charge Principal till January 2010. Principal Dr. M. M. Andar took over the charge in January 2010, and worked till April 2017. Dr. Girija Shankar (April 2017-March 2021) and Dr. Asha Jadhav (April to June 2021) worked as In-Charge Principal and at Present Professor (Dr.) Vrishali S. Randhir is the I/c Principal.

Accreditation at 'A' Level a Historical Landmark

The Peer Team of the National Council for Assessment and Accreditation (NAAC), Bangalore visited the College in February 2004 and in May 2014 and accredited it with an A grade. Recently college has been re accredited for the 3rd cycle. The India Today has already ranked it as one of the top five in the city. These distinctions achieved by the college are a mark of hardwork put in by its staff, the respectability its Management enjoys in public and the support it has been receiving from the student community over all these years.
